16	FSCT- 202-01	Topic: Great Chains of Being	1	TuTh	10:20 AM - 11:50 AM	Gulick	2003	Hermanson,Kit

This interdisciplinary Fisher Center course will explore the history of the category of ¿human¿ and metaphors that have been used to define human relations to the environment, animals, other humans, and the divine from antiquity to today. From the Great Chain of Being to the food chain and the ¿missing link,¿ we will explore the many ways in which chain-thinking has enabled (often harmful) hierarchies. We will delve into primary sources that exemplify how various eras organized life and the actual consequences that produced. Students should expect a historical class focused on primary source analysis with content from religious studies, gender studies, and philosophy.

18	GLS- 101-02	Topic: Alcohol	1	MW	01:10 PM - 02:40 PM	Gulick	2000	Galloway,David J

For over nine thousand years human beings have produced alcoholic drinks in various forms. While some theories say our ancestors started to do so millions of years ago in a quest for calories, now alcohol is many things to many people: indispensable beverage, religious obligation or prohibition, sign of high or low culture, curse or blessing, and more. We will consider the historical, cultural, and political roles alcohol has played in multiple contexts as we engage the question of how this substance has both driven human development and also reflects the cultures which consume (or refuse to consume) it.

18	GLS- 101-03	Topic: Water	1	TuTh	08:40 AM - 10:10 AM	Napier	201	Welsh,Kristen E
----	-------------	--------------	---	------	---------------------	--------	-----	-----------------

Water seems to be everywhere, yet it is one of the most precious and threatened commodities on the planet today. Water has been celebrated, used, and changed by humans in ways that engage fundamental questions of global studies. What global processes do these human/global interactions reflect? Which, and whose, histories are intertwined with water? What global practices are shaped by water? Using water as a lens through which to introduce students to thinking globally, this course will take an interdisciplinary approach to engage the cultural resonance, harnessing and commoditization of water from world pre-history through the present.

Multi-Designated Courses
There are limited number of instances in the Schedule of Courses in which classes fall into two unique categories: (1) Within Subject -- classes with multi-level course designations (eg. ANTH 323/423) and (2) Cross Subject - classes which have multiple designations but the same course content (eg. ARCH 351/ENV 351). These classes are viewed by the Colleges as "class equivalents" and students are only permitted to take one of the equivalents for credit toward their degree. Students should also be aware that for the within subject classes in category (1) there will be students that are taking the course at different levels and this will include differences in assignments, etc.
