Hong Kong Summer 2011 Program

A 5-week summer program is available at Lingnan University in Hong Kong. There is a choice of courses in the Humanities, Social Sciences, Economics, Business Studies and Languages and you can take either one or two courses (each course in Hong Kong will earn 1 HWS course credit). There is also the option of taking a service learning course instead, which would involve service-learning activities in community agencies.

Eligibility: open to sophomores and juniors with at least a 2.5 cumulative gpa

Program dates: will be announced in December

Fees: will be announced in December
(last year’s fees were approx $1600, which included tuition for one course, accommodation, local transport, food, medical insurance and visa. This does not include airfare, which we estimate at around $1200 - $1400.

Deadline to apply: A date in March to be announced. Applications will be processed by the Center for Global Education.

We will email all students sometime in December when the application materials are available.
